

POWERS ACCEPT U. S. ARMS PROPOSAL

CONCRETE HIGHWAY FROM JANESVILLE TO BRODHEAD, PLEA SUPERVISORS FROM WEST PART OF COUNTY TO PETITION.

TRAVEL IS HEAVY
Would Bring Much New Trade, Assertion of Road Backers.

Supervisors from the western section of the county, representing Plymouth, Grant, and Spring Valley, will today petition for the laying of concrete pavement on highway 20 from Brodhead to Janesville, for "making Rock a better county."

Recommendations that the county build eight miles of concrete, from Clinton to Beloit, by contract, and a part of the Janesville-Brodhead road with county labor probably will not have altogether smooth sailing. The western supervisors are loaded with facts demanding the building of 20.

"Make County Better."

They point out that the heaviest traveled road in Rock county is the road west of Janesville running through Hanover, Orfordville, with a short cross-road to Footville, Orfordville, Brodhead and thence in Green county to Monroe. This route forms the so-called Washington highway direct from Racine to Dubuque, Iowa, and runs directly east and west across the county. The distance from Janesville to Brodhead on the Green county line is declared to be 20 miles.

"There are four truck lines and two daily bus lines over this road and we have counted 3,000 autos daily over this line," declares C. O. Osgood, Plymouth township. "The traffic is extremely heavy even on a gravel road and would be greater with concrete."

"Three Roads Favored."

"We want this highway built as soon as possible to bring trade into Rock county—and that is what the county authorized the bond issue for," continues the western supervisor.

Says Coalition Cabinet Would Betray Ulster

(By Associated Press.)
Belfast.—U. M. Andrews, minister of labor in the Ulster cabinet, upon his return to Belfast from London Tuesday, issued the following statement:

"A disgraceful betrayal of Ulster has been attempted by the coalition cabinet. The coalition has been made to show agreement to a parliament for all Ireland with dominion."

"We have informed His Majesty's government that we are not prepared to admit the ascendancy of any parliament other than the imperial parliament, over ours, or to agree to its reserved services being transferred to a parliament controlled by those who are enemies of the empire."

Bar Attorney in Booze Case

Milwaukee.—Attorney Vincent D. Hennessey was disqualified Tuesday by Federal Judge P. A. Geiger as counsel for A. F. Barker, accused of conspiring to violate the Volstead act, in either of two cases pending against him. Judge Geiger also ruled that Mr. Hennessey could not represent Walter M. Burke, charged with the same offense, in certain indictments against him.

Judge Geiger's ruling did not affect cases in which Burke is a codefendant of Harry Feuer and Charles Grossarth, both of Chicago. The Chicagoans are charged with conspiring against Judge Geiger and the motion to bar Mr. Hennessey from appearing for Burke in these cases will be considered by another judge.

Judge Geiger disqualified Mr. Hennessey because the investigations, which culminated in the indictment of Burke and Hennessey, were conducted while he was assistant United States district attorney.

Federal Case Against Mrs. Stokes Dismissed

Known City, Mo.—The federal government's case against Mrs. Stokes, a New York socialist, was dismissed here Tuesday by W. E. Hallatt, assistant United States district attorney for Western Missouri. Mr. Hallatt's action was pursuant to instructions from the attorney general's office in Washington.

CLINICS AT MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee.—Dr. J. Clayton Gittings of the graduate medical college, University of Pennsylvania, conducted a diagnostic clinic Tuesday at the tri-state medical association convention comprising Wisconsin, Illinois and hospitals as subjects. The clinic conducted by Dr. Gittings was followed by a surgical clinic in charge of Dr. Arthur Dean Brown, Rush medical college, Chicago. Dr. Alfred Strong, University of Pennsylvania, and Dr. Reginald Sayre, Bellevue hospital, New York.

Seek to Break Down Alibi of Alleged Slayer

While the body of Mrs. Christianna Brickson was being lowered into the grave at Oak Hill cemetery, Tuesday afternoon, before relatives and friends came to pay final tribute to the 62-year old woman so cruelly murdered at her home near the Janesville Country club, Friday night, Under-sheriff Fred Beley and his aides were making a more extensive investigation in the little Belgian colony in South Beloit.

The purpose of the trip was to pile up further evidence against Henry Vernebach, 48, Belgian beet worker, held at the county jail on a charge of first degree murder of Mrs. Brickson.

OBENCHAINS GET LICENSE TO WED

Ralph Would Remarry Ex-Wife, Charged With Murder.

Los Angeles.—Ralph Obenchain of Evanston, Ill., has obtained from the county clerk a license to wed his divorced wife, Madalyn, who is in the county jail awaiting trial.

Mr. Obenchain is counsel for his wife in the case in which she is charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy.

Immediacy of obtaining the license, Mr. Obenchain went to the county jail. He and Mrs. Obenchain were engaged in a conversation in the visitors' room on the second floor when a reporter informed Burck that the license had been obtained. Burck laughed in an odd manner and said:

"I hadn't heard of it. I must go upstairs."

A few minutes later Mr. and Mrs. Obenchain and Burck were found in a darkened corner of the visitors' room. Madalyn was having a railing in her chair facing her former husband. Mr. Obenchain was watching her intently. Burck was on his knees at the feet of Mrs. Obenchain. He was pleading with such earnestness that he did not observe the intruder. Mr. and Mrs. Obenchain looked up and then Burck, turning his head, saw he was being interrupted and immediately rose to his feet. He finally was ordered to his cell by Jailer Cronin.

Judge Opposes Marriage.

Obenchain was told the sheriff had conferred with Judge Willis, who had stated, he would not consent to a marriage during the pendency of the case.

Brannon Will Talk at Dinner for Supervisors

President Melvin Brannon, Beloit college, will speak on "Reconstruction and the Schools" at the annual dinner of the county board members at the Rock County Teachers' Training school at noon, Wednesday. Due to the rush of the business of the board members, President Brannon will be the only speaker. Members of the training school will serve the dinner.

FARM CO-OP FIRM LOSES DECISION

Madison.—The Farmers' Co-operative Packing company of La Crosse, La Crosse, Wis., lost a judgment of $10,123 against the Langdon Boyd Packing company of La Crosse, as a result of a supreme court decision Tuesday reversing the lower court's decision. The defendants had previously been found guilty of conspiracy to defraud in selling their property to the farmers.

Super-Stars Exist in Heavens, Is Claim of Scientist at Academy

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago.—Existence of greater stars than Betelgeuse, the giant star whose diameter was measured as 300,000,000 miles, was announced by Prof. A. A. Michelson, in an address before the National Academy of Sciences Monday night.

Antares, a star in the constellation of Scorpio, was named as one of the super-stars, but its exact size has not yet been determined, he said. Other stars whose magnitude may surpass either of these are to be measured, he said, by means of the new interferometer, developed by Prof. Michelson.

Other speakers before the academy, Prof. Pearl of Johns Hopkins University and Prof. E. B. Barnard of Yerkes observatory, described investigations of human mortality and the astronomical "milky way." Too much pampering and hospitalization are weakening the human race, Prof.

DON'T PAVE IN '22, BURDEN TOO HEAVY, PLEA OF TAXPAYERS

COUNCIL TURNS DOWN MOTION TO CUT OFF SOME OF LOAD.

DEBATE IS WARM

Gibbons Resolution to Cut Expenses for Next Year Lost by 8 to 6 Vote

Acceptance of four petitions against paving the 1922 paving program, informally drawn up 10 days ago, and an 8 to 6 defeat of a resolution to go on record as against any extensive program for 1922 and improving on only such streets as absolutely necessary, were the high lights of a two and one-half hour session of the city council, Monday night.

Debate on paving was warm, with Mayor E. Walsh and Ald. J. J. Dulin handling several jobs to Ald. A. J. Gibbons for attempting to dictate a non-paving policy that would "tie up the council's hands."

Petitions were received from property owners protesting against paving on: Milton avenue, from East to St. Mary's, 42 signers; Milwaukee avenue, East to Garfield, 23 signers; Milwaukee avenue, Washington to Pine, 22 signers; and Ravine street, Jackson to Franklin, 3 signers. The protests were accepted unanimously by Aldermen Dulin and Walsh.

The understanding that the streets involved would be dropped from consideration for the 1922 paving program, "No further action was taken on the remaining 38 blocks of the original 58-block schedule introduced at the informal meeting, Nov. 4."

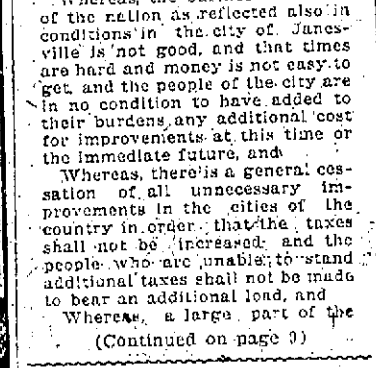

The Gibbons Resolution.

Following is the Gibbons resolution "to go on record as against all paving in 1922, except where absolutely necessary:

"Whereas, the business situation of the nation is depressed and in consequence the city of Janesville is not good, and that times are hard and money is not easy to get, and the people of the city are in no condition to have added to their burden any additional cost for improvements at this time or the immediate future, and

"Whereas, there is a general cessation of all business and industry in the city of Janesville, and that the taxes shall not be increased, and the people who are unable to stand additional taxes should be made to pay a large part of the

STOUGHTON PLANT DAMAGED BY FIRE

$300,000 Loss When Auto Truck Building of Wagon Works Burns.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Stoughton.—Starting from a gasoline explosion, the entire plant of the Stoughton Wagon company here, Monday afternoon, caused damage estimated at $300,000 when the auto truck building was burned.

The fire started when one of the workmen in the truck building, which is a frame structure about a block long and a half block wide, tipped over a gasoline can, which was ignited. This was at 4 p. m. Monday. Workmen present were unable to extinguish the fire and in a short time the entire building was ablaze.

Keep Fire from Spreading.

Twenty trucks and numerous partly completed vehicles were destroyed, besides equipment. The reason for the burning of the plant are standing Tuesday is the fact that a demonstrator with an automobile fire pump, the hose of which may be put down in a well or three and a half miles, was on hand. This was pressed into service, with the end of the hose in the Yaharah river, giving the fire fighters three lines of hose and they succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to other units of the large plant.

The Madison fire department arrived as the fire was put out.

According to F. J. Vea, president of the plant, the loss is entirely covered by insurance. He said the building was destroyed by a fire which was started by a demonstrator with an automobile fire pump, the hose of which may be put down in a well or three and a half miles, was on hand. This was pressed into service, with the end of the hose in the Yaharah river, giving the fire fighters three lines of hose and they succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to other units of the large plant.

WAGE ADJUSTMENT MEETINGS CALLED

Rail Heads Call Employees to Consider Drop in Schedules.

(By Associated Press.)
New York.—Managers of 52 railroads, covering the territory of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio river, Tuesday began mailing notices to the various classes of railroad employees calling for conferences to consider readjustments in wages in addition to the wage notice, a separate notice will advise the train service men that the managers desire to revise their working conditions and arrangements, particularly those dealing directly or indirectly with compensation.

Revamp Agreement.

Conferences with employees in all cases are expected to get under way immediately after the expiration of 30 days' notice. The plan is to revamp the present working agreement on the basis of the new schedule, which each road has negotiated in the past with its train service employees in order to work for "greater compensation."

CITY OVER TOP IN IRISH CAMPAIGN

$2,000 Quota Over-Subscribed by $300—Sheridan Elated Over Success.

The spirit of the workers and the spirit of the people of Janesville is being shown in the success of the drive for the relief of the suffering in Ireland, according to James Sheridan, county chairman. The quota of $2,000 has been over-subscribed by $300 with contributions still coming in, he said Tuesday.

The drive started last Tuesday morning.

"Chairman of the Irish Relief Campaign, I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to the executive committee and to the men who so generously gave of their time and money in carrying out this fine worthy project," stated Mr. Sheridan.

"I wish to say of those men that they were all those who left their homes and offices and their different lines of work when America was in trouble and went into the city and county and helped raise money for liberty bonds and war savings stamps. Their hearts and pockets were always open to the cry of distress no matter where it is found. There is no question of religion or nationality where help is needed."

"I also wish to say that the men and women who responded to the call in the manner they did. We met but few who would not give and whose were the same ones who were called 'stinkers' during the war."

The pharmacy will be allowed to sell 8 1/2 gallons more between now and Dec. 31, officials said.

WOMAN NAMED AS ARBUCKLE JUROR; FIVE ARE CHOSEN

SHARP TILTS MARK OPENING OF COMEDIAN'S TRIAL.

WITNESS FOUND

Chicago Girl's Story is Favorable to Defense of Film Fat Man.

(By Associated Press.)
San Francisco.—Twelve venire members examined and five jurors selected Tuesday, one a woman, was the situation at the opening of the second day of the trial of "Fat" Arbuckle here Tuesday, on a manslaughter charge.

Arbuckle went on trial Monday on charges connected with the death of Miss Virginia Rappé, film actress, which followed a party in Arbuckle's room at the Hotel St. Francis here last September.

The five jurors so far seated, however, are still subject to challenge. Exhaustive interrogation to which veniremen are being subjected, indicates that the jury probably will not be completed before Thursday.

Lack of interest in the tedious routine of picking a jury is thought to be responsible for the absence of the crowd of the trial of the throngs that sought admittance at his preliminary hearing. The first day's session was devoid of interest except for verbal spats between opposing counsel. The only incident bordering on the sensational was an intimation in court by Gavin McNab, chief counsel for the defense, that District Attorney McHugh had threatened to send to jail some witnesses if they refused to make certain statements. McNab added that he would produce seven witnesses to prove his assertion, "I will resign."

Perceptibly downcast, the film comedian sat in silence while lawyers questioned prospective jurors.

MEMBER OF PARTY IS FOUND AT HOME

Chicago.—Miss Betty Campbell, long sought as an important witness in the "Fat" Arbuckle case, was found Tuesday in her home here.

Miss Campbell, 20 years old, a member of the party, was found by police in her home here.

"I don't believe Virginia Rappé had anything to do with her death," she said.

"I joined the party at 4 o'clock that afternoon. Virginia, according to the prosecution, was supposed to have been fatally injured by 'Fat' Arbuckle at that time. She was at that time lying in an adjoining room."

"I remained at the party until after 8 o'clock that evening."

"Fatty came at the party and he was drunk, danced and played the phonograph all that time and the party was very noisy. People who had been there with Virginia, there was 'Fatty,' Al Semmacker, Virginia's manager; Fred Fishback, Mrs. Delmont, Zeb Provost, Lowell Sherman and two others besides myself."

"My point is this: It doesn't seem possible, if Arbuckle had committed that terrible crime with which he is now charged, that he would have contributed thus, and that the same people who now are testifying against him should have remained in it."

"During the entire time I was present I heard not a single word from anybody to indicate that there had been any trouble of any kind except two statements from Arbuckle himself."

"Became too Noisy."

"Once he explained that he had sent Virginia out of the party because she had become too wild and Semmacker, I think you should take her out of here. I don't want to be responsible for her."

"Mrs. Delmont came into the suite, after the party, and had several drinks. I heard her say nothing about Virginia."

Court Battle to Retain Office Seen if Sheriff Is Ousted by Governor

(By Associated Press.)
Madison.—Removal of Sheriff Hans R. Onella county by Governor J. J. Blaine, predicted here, would result in a court fight to retain the peace officer in his position, it was Tuesday.

Lawyers declared that in such a case the supreme court would be asked to assume original jurisdiction and determine the law involved in the action.

The sheriff returned to Rhinelander Monday, and will not return to Madison until final hearing on the complaint filed by John Wiesman against him, which is expected to be set for next Tuesday at 2 p. m. The governor has requested that the sheriff return the envelope in which the complaint against him was received, that he might determine whether an answer was made within the 10 car limit required by the statutes.

On this depends the action of Gov. Blaine toward the defense of the sheriff. He may refuse to receive the answer, should it be shown that it was not returned within the prescribed time.

Governor Blaine has declared his intention to subpoena witnesses and go to the bottom of the controversy which has arisen over refusal of the sheriff to obey an executive pardon order on the advice of Judge A. H. Reid of Wausau.

MORGAN SCORED BY GOVERNOR BLAINE

Failure to Rush Through Important Suits Is Charged.

Madison.—William J. Morgan, attorney general, is scored by Governor J. J. Blaine Tuesday for what the governor says is his failure to rush through important suits commenced by the state.

In a letter directing Attorney General Morgan to commence proceedings against the Mid-West Cement Credit and Statistical bureau and other cement companies for alleged violation of the state anti-trust laws, Governor Blaine says "It is far better to take one action and carry it through to a successful conclusion than start many actions and not bring them to trial."

Prompt Action Urged.

"If any good is to come out of litigation started by the state, the time should be had in the shortest time possible," the governor declared.

Blaine says, "As to the kind of action, or similar actions affecting trusts and monopolies, to hang fire without bringing them to trial is nothing more than 'unproviding' that trusts and monopolies may continue."

Governor Blaine then points out the action started against the Tomahawk Cash Mercantile company, which he says was started May 2 and has not been tried and to the expressed intention of the attorney general to open proceedings against the state of Illinois for diverting the waters of Lake Michigan and reducing the level to the injury of people in Wisconsin.

ENGLAND AND JAPS FIRST TO AGREE ON ARMAMENT CUT

OTHERS FOLLOW SUIT AT SECOND DAY'S SESSION.

BALEFOUR LEADS

Assures of Great Britain's Support in Principle and Spirit.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington.—The spokesmen of Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan on Tuesday accepted the American proposal for limitation of naval armament in "spirit and principle," making only reservations for suggesting modifications of detail.

In order, A. J. Balfour, speaking for Great Britain, Baron Admiral Kato, speaking for Japan, Senator Schreiner speaking for Italy and M. Briand, speaking for France, rose in their places and, praising in highest terms the plan and program suggested by the American government, gave the great Britain of their governments to the general terms of the proposals.

The conference adjourned at 12:44 p. m. to meet again at call of the chairman.

Mr. Balfour said, in substance: "Statements of all countries are beginning to discover that the labor and difficulties of peace are as great as those of war, as required by the conduct of a successful war."

New Anniversary.

"Now, I rise first to deal with the subject which is at the heart of our hearts because Great Britain and the British empire are more profoundly concerned with all that touches naval matters than it is possible for other nations to be."

"I congratulate you," said Mr. Balfour, "on the fact that you have added a new anniversary which, because of this movement toward reconstruction, in the minds of the allies, and associated powers, Nov. 12 will prove to be an anniversary not merely to restore peace, but to see that the war conditions shall never again exist."

Telling of how he heard Secretary Hughes' proposals, Mr. Balfour said, he suddenly realized, in participating in a "great historical event."

"When the blow fell and the speaker uttered the memorable words that found an echo in the hearts of all, it excited profound surprise," he said. "The history of world reconstruction had been worthily opened."

Britain Is Scattered.

The United States stands solidly, impregnable, with the lines of its communications protected, completely protected from any conceivable hostile. It is not merely that you have a 100,000,000 people; it is that you have the wealthiest nation. The geographical position of your country makes you wholly immune from the perils to which the British empire is subjected."

Suppose your western states were suddenly removed 10,000 miles across the seas, suppose you found that the heart of your country was a small and crowded island, depending on long overseas communication for raw materials. Suppose your population never had more than seven weeks' food and that this had to be replenished from overseas. It is not that you will understand why it is that every citizen of the British empire, no matter where he lives, never can forget that it is by sea communication that he cannot live."

"Taking the battleships as a basis," continued Mr. Balfour, "we think the propositions between the allies are perfectly reasonable. We think the limitation of armaments is reasonable. We believe thoroughly, it will be accepted."

Would Reduce U-Boats.

Mr. Balfour suggested that the submarine tonnage might well be reduced and that possibility construction of large submarines should be prohibited.

HIRST REFUSES TO DINE WITH SMALL

Wouldn't Offend Illinois Governor Thus, Says Badger Official.

When Governor Blaine of Wisconsin and Small of Illinois, the road commissioner of Illinois and other officials of both states sit down to banquet and celebrate the opening of the Edgerton-Janesville-Beloit-Rockford concrete road at Rockford next Friday night, A. R. Hirst will be absent. He says he does not care to offend Governor Small.

Mr. Hirst is state highway engineer of the Wisconsin highway commission. He and Governor Small do not get along together. "Under other circumstances I would be very glad to accept the invitation," he says, "but Gov. Len Small is also listed as one of the speakers. I cannot be present at any function with the governor of Illinois and maintain my self-respect. The governor was so solicitous about my dining with indicted persons in Chicago to which he took exception—that I could not further offend his delicate sense of honor by sitting down at the dinner with certain other indicted persons."

Governor Small will arrive in Rockford Friday at 12:55 for the gateway celebration. Road officials of the Prairie state will accompany him.

Delegations from 22 cities will be present at the opening. Leo H. Atwood will represent this city. Other arrangements will be made public Wednesday respecting Janesville's participation.

Cities of the Rock river valley are enthusiastic over the opening. The opening of the highway has steered cities beyond Rockford to procure a promise from Illinois for extension of the Rockford highway, especially to Rockford-Mendota and the Black Hawk Trail on which Janesville is located—to Dixon.

New Case Is Begun Against Rochdale Firm

Papers were served Monday afternoon by Attorney Thomas S. Nolan against the Sixth Wisconsin Rockford branch of the Rochdale company, a cooperative grocery store corporation, by Joseph and Mary Bau Claire, 288 Riverside street. Joseph Bau Claire is employed at the Chicago and North Western roundhouse.

Similar charges of misrepresentation as were made in the first case filed against the Rochdale company by Mrs. Bauer are contained in the complaint filed for Mr. and Mrs. Bau Claire.

The bank account and funds of the Wisconsin Rochdale company have been garnished by the attorneys handling the claims against the company. Other suits are expected to follow.

DEPOSIT OF COUNTY FUNDS FOR 1922 IS MATTER FOR BOARD

Award of the county funds to banks was one of the first orders of business before the county board and this troublesome question promises to be a long issue, as usual. The bank of Southern Wisconsin with a bid of $45,000, the highest, held at the county funds during the last year.

There has been some talk among supervisors of apportioning out the county funds to all banks in the county at a low rate of interest. This, they argue, will give banks funds to loan to farmers on long time notes.

On Wednesday the supervisors will dine at the Rock County Training school and on Thursday at the Rock county farm.

Members meeting during the morning for committee sessions and "hot confabs" declared that the road program would not be put over until the April meeting.

We want the road program approved now so that early plans can be made, equipment and material bought and be placed on the job as soon as spring comes," declared W. W. Dalton, Clinton.

The board of equalization held its first meeting during the morning going over the assessment figures with Supervisor A. A. Taylor. This committee is composed of Mr. Richardson, Janesville chairman; M. L. Paulson, J. A. Paul, George Doty, Arthur Gauder, first district; C. W. Morrison, Robert Seydler, W. S. Leathers and G. Clemenson, second district.

Carroll Case First on List for Jury Trial

The first case to be tried in Rock county circuit court will be against John Carroll, Janesville youth, charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated. Judge Grimm overruled a motion to quash the complaint on the petition of Attorney B. H. Ryan who claimed insufficient evidence from the municipal court hearing here.

The case resulted from the death of a youth named Butler who was killed in an automobile truck accident on the Beloit road near Town Line. Carroll is alleged to have been driving the truck which ran off the bank and threw Butler so that he struck the rail of the laterburied track, breaking his neck. The case was taken to the circuit court on a change of venue.

Starting Tuesday morning there were 24 cases in which the jury was waived and there is likelihood of a settlement. The jury was excused for the day, subject to duty Wednesday morning.

The calendar was reduced materially and it is now expected that there will be more than a dozen trials before a jury. The extra venire of Jurymen reported at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Included in the special venire of 13 summoned for the circuit court were three more women, Mrs. Anna Faust of Janesville and Mrs. Helen VanGelder, of the town of Bradford. Mrs. VanGelder has expressed a willingness to do jury.

Civil War Vet, 83, Dies Here

Ranks of the local chapter, G. A. R., are lessened by one with the death of Paul John Schrader, 83, who died at his home, 1408 Pleasant street, at 8 a. m. Tuesday after having been in ill health for several years. He had a stroke last Saturday, from which he did not rally.

Mr. Schrader had been a member of the G. A. R. Post of this city since September, 1915. He enlisted in the service in Sept., 1861 and was made a corporal of Co. G, 15th Wisconsin Infantry Volunteers, and was mustered out Nov. 12, 1864, after three years and two months' service.

He was born in Germany Dec. 23, 1838 and came to this country at the age of 20. He lived in Milwaukee, but enlisted from Janesville. Returning from the war, he located in Brodhead and was married April 1, 1867. He later moved to Whitewater, then locating on a farm near Milton. They came to this city in 1905, and have lived at their home on Pleasant street since that time.

Mrs. George Kerriem, survive him.

Funeral announcement will be given later.

UNWILLING JUROR ADMITS WIFE BOSS

In accepting excuses Tuesday, Judge George Grimm closely questioned a few prospective jurors for their reasons.

One applicant for being released, declared, "I am a farmer and my wife says I had better be home attending to my work than here on jury."

"What about your wife?" questioned the court.

"Just about," admitted the man. He was excused.

Taking one from a business for jury duty was sufficient, ruled the judge, in considering the excuse of Clarence Hemmens, Janesville, an employee of the Sheldon Hardware company.

"Having Mrs. Sheldon, one of the first on the jury is enough. I'll excuse you," ruled the court.

Members meeting during the morning for committee sessions and "hot confabs" declared that the road program would not be put over until the April meeting.

We want the road program approved now so that early plans can be made, equipment and material bought and be placed on the job as soon as spring comes," declared W. W. Dalton, Clinton.

The board of equalization held its first meeting during the morning going over the assessment figures with Supervisor A. A. Taylor. This committee is composed of Mr. Richardson, Janesville chairman; M. L. Paulson, J. A. Paul, George Doty, Arthur Gauder, first district; C. W. Morrison, Robert Seydler, W. S. Leathers and G. Clemenson, second district.

Only $49.25 was reported raised in the fifth annual roll call of the Janesville chapter of the American Red Cross Tuesday. Miss Rattle, aiden, secretary, stated, Tuesday morning. Few campaign workers reported. This brings the total amount raised to date, including that taken in at the exposition, to $294.55.

Inquest Is Called for 10, Friday

County Coroner Wheeler announced Tuesday that the inquest would be held at 10 a. m. Friday in municipal court.

It was learned Tuesday from Nels Erickson, husband of the murdered woman, that Vermeersch told him several weeks ago that if he ever got into any trouble, he would never admit it. Further information from Mr. Erickson was his belief that the endorsement on the back of the $40 check was not that of either his or his wife's handwriting. He said he never endorsed his checks—that his wife usually endorsed his name and then wrote her own. He looked over the check carefully and declared he did not believe his wife endorsed it.

Under-Sheriff Beley has ordered the check sealed up in an envelope not to be touched any further. This is taken to indicate that he may call in fingerprint experts to inspect the slip. This however may be of no avail as the check has been handled by several since it was cashed Saturday.

KNAPP IS RELEASED. Milton Knapp, alleged embezzler, was released from the county jail Monday, having secured a $100 bail at the Rockford house. He is charged with embezzlement of $50. There is no charge that he passed bad checks.

MIMICRY OF TICS

The temptation to imitate a habit spasm indicated by an individual who commands respect or admiration is powerful, even for adults and of course irresistible for children. As in a schoolroom, there are almost sure to be a few who have tics or habit spasms which are more or less vicious depending on the character and intensity of the spasm. A blinking or grimacing tic is more conspicuous in a group than a sniffing or throat clearing habit. A use of the latter tics are accompanied with noticeable sounds. Some tics are associated with peculiar sounds, as of clearing the throat, snoring, or some other peculiar action which even occasionally is purposeless. The ordinary tic often has its origin in some purposive action, such as a tic from moistening the lip with saliva to relieve a sore on the lip, or a sniffing tic following some temporary nasal inflammation. Indeed, the formation of an ordinary tic might be called mimicry by the tic itself. In children peculiar tics of the face or the muscles of expression commonly occur from mimicry of normal peculiarities of expression they have observed upon the faces of persons they admire or respect. Any voluntary or purposive act may be imitated or reproduced in a tic, such as shrugging the shoulders, nodding, scratching.

The individual with a tic can always avoid the repetition of the movement or action if he tries to control or prevent it, but only for a brief period of seconds or minutes, after which it will occur in spite of him. In this way it is different from true spasm, for the victim of a spasm of course cannot control the action of the tic muscles even for a second, no matter how much he may try. And in this way, also, it differs from chronic twitches. Spasms, which are much more increased if the child attempts to control or prevent them by will. The habit spasm may occur every few moments, but is sometimes absent for a considerable time. The individual who is intellectually preoccupied, or, of course, choreic twitches are wholly irregular and non purposive. In chorea and in habit spasm the tic movements come during sleep; in true spasm they do not.

The effort of will which enables the victim of a tic to prevent the movement for a few seconds is inhibition, which means holding back or checking some action. Through the development and strengthening of inhibition by carefully conducted exercises carried out before a mirror and under the supervision of a physician or physiotherapist with special training for such treatment, it is possible in many instances to cure habit spasm, at least in children and youths. Associates of Dr. William J. Brady, M. D., of New York City, using the muscle education Dr. Brady has employed so successfully in the treatment of locomotor ataxia, have reported excellent results from similar inhibition exercises in the treatment of tics.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
A Rather Nervous Mother.
Nowadays.
I am a girl 23 years old and very bold-looking. Can anything be done for me? (Mrs. C. B.)
Answer.—In olden times they used to call some girls bold-faced, but I can readily see what you mean. Sometimes in infancy properly applied spirits will overcome bowing, but after the age of six years the only remedy is to have the legs straightened by an operation.

Quinine Poisoning.
I was greatly interested in one of your statements concerning the extraordinary unpleasant effects of quinine upon certain individuals. Would such idiosyncrasy go so far as to answer on insanity in such an individual? (E. W.)
Answer.—No. Blindness, deafness, head noises and skin rashes are sometimes produced, but never anything like insanity.

Malaria.
Can malaria be transmitted by a parent to a child? The individual concerned lives in a dry, healthful location, yet suffers a recurrence of malaria each year without the presence of mosquitoes. (Mrs. P. S. T.)
Answer.—Malaria is not inheritable. One infected with malaria may have annual seizures for years until the parasites are eradicated from the blood.

The Flatfooted Walk.
When walking I strike the ground first with my heel, and then my foot to point my toes outward. My heels make too much noise on the pavement. How may I correct this fault? (Miss B. J.)
Answer.—It is difficult for you to walk looking straight ahead or a trifle to the right, and there is something the matter with your feet or shoes. But it is wrong, as well as ungraceful, to let your feet walk outward. Perhaps you should wear "rifle broed" flat heels, or at least heels much lower than the common fashion.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters, pertaining to health. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail. The editor of the Janesville Gazette, to whom all letters should be addressed, is enclosed. Address: Dr. Wm. Brady, Gazette.

Q. To what church does Lloyd George belong?
A. We were informed that Premier Lloyd George was a Methodist. The publication of this raised some storm of objection both Anglicans and members of the Christian church asserting that he belonged to their denominations. That we wrote to Mr. Lloyd George at his London address. His secretary sent us the following courteous answer: "The prime minister wishes me to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 5th inst., and to inform you that he is a member of the Anglican branch of the Disciples of Christ, but that while he is in London he attends the Baptist chapel as the Disciples of Christ have no church in this city."

JUST FOLKS

BREAD AND BUTTER.

I've eaten chicken a la king
And many a fancy dish.
I think I've tasted everything
The heart of man can wish.
But nightly when we dine alone
My greatest prize I prize
Unto that good old stand-by known
As mother's bread and butter.

Some think it very common fare
And may be they are right.
But I can take that wholesome pair
At morning, noon and night.
And there's a happy thrill I feel
That sets my heart a-flutter
As I sit down to make a meal
Of mother's bread and butter.

Though poets sing their favorite foods
In lifting lines and sweet,
And each unto his different moods
Tells what he likes to eat.
I still remain the little boy
Who gratefully would mutter
A youngster's gratitude and joy
For mother's bread and butter.

So now for all the love I've had
Since first I was a little lad
In hunger's deep despair,
I hold the finest food of all.
Though epicures may spatter
And sneer me from the banquet hall—
Is mother's bread and butter.

AS TO NURSES.

Dear Roy.—I am sorry to hear that you have been wrestling with a doctor and two trained nurses. I do not wish to see you in a hospital, but I do hope that the nurses were good-looking.

A few years ago I was taken ill and a scheming physician informed my wife that it would be advisable to procure a trained nurse. She came and I got well again. PRINCE TOKUGAWA.

The main spokesman for Tokio in matters of the politics and problems of the Pacific basin at the dramatic administration of Mayor Tom Johnson, is Prince Tokugawa, who belongs to the Toyosu branch of the great Tokugawa family, is president of the Japanese League of Peers, a position he has held since 1903, and whose recreations are wrestling and "yokoyaku," or old Japanese games. At the age of five he was adopted as heir by the last of the Shoguns, and after the restoration became governor of the Shogun's domain. After his first foreign tour he became a member of the house of peers, and three years saw him promoted in to his presidency.

Prince Tokugawa, who was born in 1874, the emperor ordered him to form a cabinet, but he declined to accept. He has visited this country three times and has been in Japan for the last time in 1914. He is a man of great physical strength, considerable force of character, but knows the limits of his own power. He is a peace-loving personality. There is little, if anything, about the aims and aspirations of modern Japan that he does not know.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS
City Manager for Cleveland.
Cleveland got an intensive training in taking an intelligent interest in city affairs under the dramatic administration of Mayor Tom Johnson. His voters are unusually independent and well informed. These facts give particular significance to the adoption of the city manager form of government there Tuesday after the bitter position of the old line politicians of both parties.

It is interesting to note that the framers of the city manager charter provided for the representation of both parties in the city's board of directors through the election of proportional representation under the ward system. The men who wrote the charter felt there was danger in permitting all the councilmen to be elected on a general ticket, which might be carried by the party to the exclusion of the other from the city hall. So they made sure of an opposition element to keep watch on the majority.

The fact that a city of the size and quality of Cleveland should have copied the city manager charter will be a great impetus to this form with other cities that are studying the matter.—Kansas City Star.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

Nov. 16, 1881.—Janesville people will soon be able to go direct to Rockford by rail in an hour and a quarter. The first engine which has been borrowed from the Chicago department is expected to come in this morning. Dr. Frank P. Woodbury, Rockford, talked at the Congregational church last night on "The City of Rome" to more than 500 people.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Nov. 15, 1901.—Wisconsin will play Minnesota at Madison tomorrow. A large delegation will go up from this city. Between 15,000 and 18,000 people are expected to attend the game and festivities following. Victor Herbert's famous orchestra will appear here soon if 200 tickets can be sold before Saturday noon.

TEN YEARS AGO

Nov. 15, 1911.—A mass meeting of all citizens will be held at the city hall tomorrow night, at which time plans will be made for the relief of the suffering from the storm of last Saturday. In which nine lives were lost. The Twilight club met last night in a room of some plan for relief, and auto loads are going to the stricken sections containing, carrying food and clothing. More than $1,500 had been subscribed by noon today by citizens and companies of the city.

A NEW CALENDAR

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington, D. C.—The trails of saying "Thirty days hath September," and then counting laboriously on your fingers to find out what day of the week Christmas or pay day comes, will be ended if a bill by Representative Thomas Schall of Minnesota becomes a law.

Representative Schall says that in Minnesota business men are urging a change in the calendar system. "Business men," he points out, "are every day giving their promissory notes without knowing whether they will come on Sunday or on some day of the week on which they have engagements at distant points. The amount due an employee who works by the month is often in dispute if he quits at the end of any week previous to the end of the month, because the week is not an integral part of the month."

"Millions of our people work by the month, and yet we have no such thing as a standard month. We have standardized everything else except our measure of time—the very thing we use the most. We need a simple, well planned calendar, so that we would no longer have to consult an almanac or engage in tiresome calculations every time we plan an engagement or sign a paper."

The business men who feel most strongly about the irritations of our present time-keeping system have organized into the Liberty Calendar Association of America. One of them, Mr. Joseph Palmer, of Minneapolis, has involved a liberty calendar, which has been approved by experts on higher mathematics, and by the Chamber of Commerce.

This calendar is the one which Mr. Schall has submitted to Congress. It would divide the year into 13 months of 4 even weeks. Every week and every month would begin on the same day—Monday—as the bill stands. And every quarter of 13 weeks would always begin on the same week day, which would be a great convenience to business men.

The extra month was originally to be called Liberty, but this does not exactly harmonize with the names of the 12 months as they would stand, so Vern, meaning spring, has been suggested. Vern would fall between February and March.

The irregularities necessary to keep a calendar accurate are provided for by the inventor of the liberty calendar. Thirteen months of four weeks each provide 364 days to a year. The 365th day, or rather the first, is made New Year's Day, and a fourth day would have no status as a day of the week, except that every seventh year would be observed as Sunday.

Our Leap Year system is changed somewhat by the liberty calendar. February still has only 28 days, but so have the other months, so that there is no special need to give it the extra day. Instead, Leap Year is placed between the 28th of June and the first of July, and made a legal holiday. It occurs, as at present, every four years, except once in four centuries.

The liberty calendar bill provides that November 11, which would always fall on Thursday, would be observed as Peace and Thanksgiving Day, thereby killing two birds with one stone. Other generally observed holidays would remain about as at present.

The liberty calendar would solve one problem for the benefit of the church. Easter Sunday would always fall on the 14th of March. This obviates the difficulty of fixing the date each year by the ecclesiastical moon and an intricate formula.

The present method of determining Easter has long been regarded as unnecessarily troublesome. European astronomers are now planning to confer at Rome next spring to make Easter Sunday a fixed date, and perhaps to discuss other improvements in the calendar.

If one important country made radical changes in its way of reckoning time, other progressive nations, it is claimed, would undoubtedly follow suit. It is not thought that there would be any difficulty in getting the important countries of Europe to agree to a change from Gregorian system to something better. The details, such as holidays, and names, need not be the same in different countries, but there should be some agreement as to the arrangement of days, weeks, and months.

It is recognized abroad, as well as in this country, that the Gregorian calendar is not the most convenient possible. Beginning in 1906, Europe has had bills and conventions on the subject of calendar reform. Recently, a commission on the Reform of the Calendar has been set up to work again. The first members are from Belgium, France, Great Britain, Holland, and the United States.

Mr. Schall thinks that if Congress set the example in passing the liberty calendar bill and fixing 1925 as the year to start the new system, other countries would fall in line promptly.

The only other calendar which has received serious consideration of late is a Swiss invention. This provides 12 months of 31 days each. As we understand this calendar, the months would not be alike, as in the liberty calendar. That is, the 12th of January would not fall on the same day of the week as the 12th of February or March. Every year, however, the 12th of January would fall on the same week day.

From this, it can easily be seen that the Swiss calendar is not so simple as the American plan, and it does not do away with the necessity for consulting a guide in calculating dates.

Representative Schall, who is blind, says whimsically that the simple calendar would be very useful to him because he would no longer have to bother his secretary to look up dates for him. "That is something I am always asking her to do, now," he said.

He reminded us that a change in the calendar is not so great and unprecedented a step as some persons think. It is less than 200 years since this country adopted its present system. George Washington was born under the old Julian calendar, which placed his birthday eleven days earlier than it now stands.

The Gregorian calendar has gradually replaced the Julian in most civilized countries. Old Russia never made the change, but Soviet Russia has. China and Japan use the prevailing system.

If the change to the liberty calendar were made in 1925 or 1926, or following any year ending on Saturday or Sunday, it would be easy enough to slip from one system to the other, and begin the new year on Monday. If the change were made after a year ending on Saturday, New Year's Day could be observed as Sunday to complete the week.

It is now too late to establish the new calendar by the first of next year. But Representative Schall thinks that the matter should be discussed and other countries consulted and action taken now, so that the civilized world would be ready for the change at the next convenient time, 1928.

"If the people would stop to think about it," says Mr. Schall, "and if they would write to the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee expressing their wishes and interest, we would soon have a calendar that compares with the steam tractor and not with the plow."

The state government figures the average value of the product of the Kansas hant at $1.30. The state has brought an average value of $135 to every farm in the state. If in Wisconsin there were 100 hens on every farm, the total would pay off the farm mortgages and leave a surplus. The hen is never a failure as a money producer.

Washington will be a pleasant place for those Englishmen who do not drop their H's. There is Harding, Hughes, Hoover, Hays and over 'ome there's Harvey.

The newly elected mayor of Youngstown, O., says he is going to clean up the bootleggers. In order to do so he recommends that he attend a meeting of some League of Municipalities or consult the mayor of Oshkosh, Wis.

It is hard to believe that times are so hard when the reports of so many fat people trying to get thin.

CHAPTER XXXV.
THE FIGHT.
"At least I know they don't like me, and why," I said finally. "It clears the atmosphere, doesn't it? I could not understand this curious antagonism. I've felt it ever since I came back."
"Why did you come back?" Mother Taylor demanded suddenly. "There were lots of other places to go. Your aunt goes away all summer. Why didn't you go with her?"
"A vision of the restless summer my aunt led came to me. Parties the same as those in the winter, except they were often held out-of-doors and were more carefree and cheerful instead of tense and brooding. Otherwise there was little difference between her summer and her winter life."
"I like it better here—or did. Haven't you, my aunt and the people she sees, talk enough scandal and gossip?"
"Doless they deserve to have scandal talked," my mother-in-law remarked with her lips pursed up. "Doubtless they do," I answered. "But from all I hear, they talk it, and deserve it, as much down here."
"Big cities are always immoral," said Mother Taylor with an air of great virtue.
"Little towns are infinitely worse," I exclaimed with sudden fury. "At least in New York and the other big cities they vary the gossip by talking of interesting things like books, music and politics and travel and things of that sort. Here they seem to talk scandal and nothing else, except how to bake cakes and run a house."
"The scandal's worse in the city— it isn't. It couldn't be," I interrupted, thinking of the sordid, ugly details of the tale I had heard. "It's worse here because it's narrower so. In the city, if I leave my husband or my husband leaves me, there is a lot of talk and speculation and some rumors may be unpleasant. But after all, they conclude it's my affair and not theirs, and in a few weeks it's accepted and forgotten. My friends stay with me, and mine's with him. Here they never let it die down. It's always a new subject."
"After a moment I added: "Besides, I thought it would be nice to stay near you."
This produced an odd effect. Instead of softening, Mother Taylor stiffened as though a rod had been tied to her back.
"Even if you think my house is hideous and full of a lot of trashy furniture."

I turned and stared. My own harmless little remark, Ella had gone back to her this way. It may have been tactless to say I thought her house too full of chairs and tables, that it made me restless. But I would have told her as soon as had there been an occasion for it. Naturally I would not volunteer such information.
Yet I said it privately to Ella. I had told Ella many things much more serious in consequence, as Ella had told me many serious things too. I would not have dreamed of violating the girl's trust in me. Yet she must have repeated what I said, otherwise it could not have gotten back so.
I tried to explain my own harmless remark. Explanations made it worse, as unfortunately they have a habit of doing.
"You see, I happen to like rooms with very little in them. You like rooms with more things about. I was tired and restless when I came and I suppose when I tripped over that footstool so often in the dark, it made me—"
"You might have looked where you were going," was the answer I got to this.
And this naturally ended the conversation. I was determined not to open it. I picked up some sewing and began to work. Connie came into the room, hugging her railroad engine, and began to drag out the toy tracks and switches that went with it. She was much too young to have any idea of how to play with mechanical toys, but she liked the glitter and clatter of the tin tracks as she pulled them out on the floor.
Mother Taylor watched her, curiously, and I watched Mother Taylor while I worked. Because of our talk she had at least lost her uneasiness, feeling towards the child.
"Are you going to bring her mother here to stop the gossip?" she asked finally.
"No," I said quietly. "If I had any good reason for bringing Mrs. Anderson I would, but she would find it hard to leave her family."
"Another silence."
"I suppose since you find it so unpleasant here you'll be going back to the city?"
"No," I answered again. "I had thought of that, but I shan't. I've just finished fixing up this house. It's perfectly comfortable here and Connie is improving every day. It's cowardly to run. It looks pretty, too, so I'll stay. More and more I'm coming again—if you'll let him have a room in your house!"

BEAUTY CHATS by Edna Kent Forbes

STRENGTHENING CHEEK MUSCLES
If the muscles of the face are strong, the wrinkles will be less deep and the cheeks and wrinkles and hollows. Therefore every woman who fears the approach of wrinkles should strengthen the muscles of the cheeks as much as possible.
There is a certain rubbing exercise which is well recommended for this. If the skin is dry coat it with a little cold cream before you begin this rubbing. If it is very dry use talcum powder. This is simply to make the rubbing easier. Hold the hands over the face with the palms of the hand, that is the cushiony part of the hand against the skin. Then rub and knead the muscles vigorously—yet not too vigorously. What you want is to stimulate the circulation of blood and to exercise these muscles. You do not want to pull or stretch them.
This kneading, rubbing, motion should be kept up for several minutes: the hardest part of each stroke being upwards so as to lift the lax and sagging muscles.
When you have finished wash the face with warm water, then rinse with water cold as you can get it, too cold if possible. If you have a very loose and flabby skin this may seem to aggravate the wrinkles for a few weeks, but after that the whole face will be toned up and decidedly improved.

SUGGESTIONS
For Fleshy Plants—Use sliced raw potatoes on any plants. It has been tried with very good results. Lay the sliced raw potatoes on the plants until they turn dark; remove them and add more if necessary. This will kill all germs that are on the plants.
For Cleaning a Grass Plot—Use a pail of water with a cup of salt added.

Dinner Stories

A small boy, aged four, had just communicated the fact to his uncle that he had started on his school career.

"Indeed," said his uncle, "why, you must be the youngest there."

A southerner and northerner were discussing the remoteness of certain backwoods districts in their respective sections.

"Why," said the northerner, "there are towns in the Berkshire that don't know to this day how the battle of Manassas came out."

"That's nothing," countered the southerner, "there are hill regions down my way where they don't know the Revolution is over."

"Hm," mused the northerner. "Then there'll be surely something doing when they get word that the Civil war is on."

He stopped, coming out of the Union club, and paused to flick a bit of dust from his coat with a languid finger.

With a half-hid scornful smile he watched Percy Carrington, the millionaire's son, stride past through the portals of the club. It amused him to see the uncertainty with which this nouveau riche looked around him. His father, for more years than he could remember, had frequented the club, and he bade fair to follow in his father's footsteps!

He stood hesitating; should he go to the Vanderbilt or to the Ritz first? Suddenly he remembered. He had to go to the Vanderbilt; he didn't have enough milk in his wagon for the Ritz.

Pretending

Along certain swerves of the great Merrimack river before it makes its last sweep into the Atlantic, frill little summer cottages line the shore roads.
It was a cold November day and the sky was overcast when Jean Crandell and Robert Wright left for a Saturday in the Crandell's "Pigeon House." In the car they had lunch and a vacuum bottle of tea. Both of them wore rain coats.
"Tell me when I am to begin," said Bob as they climbed the terrace to "Pigeon House."
When the door was unlocked and the wicker chairs were dragged out on the spindly porch, Jean said: "When I say 'three.' Now, one—two—three!"
Raincoats off, Jean and Bob wore the sweaters they used when canoeing in summer. He was resplendent in white flannel trousers and white sport shoes. She was in dainty white slacks, back, oh time, in this night, Jean, as if making an inattention.
"Gee, this is great fun!" declared Bob. "It makes you think of good slacks. What but you would think of pretending it's summer in winter!"
"Well, let's go rather wild flowers," Jean said. "All right, but be careful of the nettles, and the bees and the spiders. Aren't they horrid and thick this summer?"
"And doesn't the perspiration get in your eyes?"
"As a matter of fact, at that moment both of them were shivering, not having warmed up with their exercise of climbing along the rugged banks of the Merrimack. The flowers they picked were phantoms. But they carried through their pretending without a wink or a significant laugh.
Eight p. m. A gusty wind has sprung up, whipping the top of the broad river, which would not be visible to Jean and Bob but for the lights of the car which stands on the flat driveway. But for the car, the vision there would not be a thing to see. The sky is pitch black. Unseen trees rattle and groan under the weight of the wind.
"What a glorious moon!" exclaimed Jean in feigned rapture.
"Gorgeous! A soft, delicious lover's night!"
"Well, well, don't carry that too far."

"What? Let's carry out the whole idea to the end."
"The dew—the dew is very heavy. I believe I'll slip on my raincoat."
Bob slipped the coat around her

"When I say 'three.' Now, one—two—three!"
Jean and Bob slipped their arms around her too. She tried to shake herself free. "Don't!" she cried.
"Romeo is talking to you, chanting to you," he murmured. "This scene of sylvan splendor drives him on—ah, thanks for leading him here to tell

Heart and Home Problems

By ELIZABETH THOMPSON.

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Will you please advise me whether I have done right or wrong?
I am a girl 19 years old and am at present keeping company with a young man about 25. He is a very nice young man, but is Swedish, while I am not. My folks do not approve of this man because of his nationality, but in so far as his character and habits are concerned he is one of the finest young men I have met. Should I keep company with him, regarding of my parents' wishes? Every one that knows him speaks highly of him.
Last night something happened which caused me a great deal of embarrassment. I had a date with another young man last night, and the first one did not like it. This young man has a good character also, but I do not know him so well as the first as I have not been with him so much. The first young man said that if I went with him in the car or even at all he would never speak to me again. I had intended to go until the last moment, and then to keep friends all around I had to break my date. I do not know whether I did right or wrong. I am not engaged to the other man, although he has proposed to me several times. I like him as a friend, however, but I don't think it was fair for him to insist that I choose one or the other, do you?

Do you think my parents are doing right in forbidding my company to call? Or do you believe I should go with the young man that pleases them and let the other go? In my heart I feel that I shouldn't have broken the date last night, but perhaps it isn't wise to go with more than one young man at a time.
It seems to me narrow to object to a worthy young man simply because he is not American born. As a matter of fact, the Swedes are known for their trustworthy characters and steady careers, and they are said to make good husbands. Since America prides itself on being the melting pot of the nations, it seems to me inconsistent for American people to object to their foreign brother who is of good character.
You seem to be undecided in your regard for the young man, and therefore I do not believe you love him as deeply as he does you. Since he cares enough for you to ask you to be his wife, it was all right for him to object to your going out with the other young man, or at least to give you to me several times. I like him as a friend, however, but I don't think it was fair for him to insist that I choose one or the other, do you?

Do away with back breaking rubbing—even in hard water

FOR ordinarily soft water a half package of Rinso to a tub makes a rich lather. For harder water increase the amount until you get a rich, lasting suds, even after the clothes have been put in.

Where water is extremely hard it may be necessary to dissolve a full package or more to a tub.

Dissolve the amount of Rinso you have found right for the water you use in two quarts of boiling water. Pour this solution into your tub of lukewarm water—stir well.

Put in your clothes and let them soak, one hour, two hours, overnight—whatever time is convenient. Rinse, to remove the loosened dirt, till the water runs clear.

No other soap product or softener is needed with Rinso, even in the hardest water. In hard water just use more Rinso.

Your clothes soak as safely in Rinso as in water alone

ANGLO-JAP UNION HIT BY PROPOSALS

Removal of All Misunderstanding,
Aim of Hughes
Plan.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
Copyright 1921, by Janesville Gazette.
Washington—America's naval proposals, as announced by Secretary Hughes, are predicted upon the Anglo-Japanese alliance as well as other military operations in the far east will be eliminated.

The United States is willing to reduce the size of its navy to that of the cause of misunderstanding which makes today necessary shall be removed.

Emphasis is placed today upon the words of Mr. Hughes' original invitation to the powers in which he says it is quite clear that there can be no final assurance of the peace of the world in the absence of the desire for peace, and the prospect of reduced armaments.

One unless this desire finds expression in a practical effort to remove the causes of misunderstanding and to seek agreement as to principles and their application, it is the earnest wish of this government that through an interchange of views with the facilities afforded by the conference it may be possible to find a solution of Pacific and far eastern problems.

Navy and Air Force
In other words, the limitation of armaments is inseparably bound in the settlement of far eastern questions. This means that before an agreement can be reached upon the one there must be an agreement on principles at least affecting the far east. This is the crux of the conference at the moment for it seems likely that the naval proposals will be accepted and, of course, a reduction in the size of the navy of the United States would hardly be contemplated if there were immediate prospect of friction in the far east.

The Japanese delegates have carefully studied the American proposals upon condition that a satisfactory agreement is later reached upon far eastern questions. This is truly significant for it is far more advantageous for the Japanese to see the United States committed to a smaller navy at this time than to have held over them the lever of large armaments if they do not agree to America's suggestions on far eastern problems.

Big Principles First
Since the United States is, however, not eager to see anything settled at this time except the main principles of the naval program, it is probable that nothing final will be agreed upon until the matter is binding on any of the nations until the far eastern questions have been thoroughly canvassed and there is prospect of agreement on those matters too.

The United States is saying nothing about the Anglo-Japanese alliance but is taking it for granted that Great Britain and Japan must realize that American naval proposals are absolutely unless the alliance is absolutely wiped out. For a combination of British and Japanese naval strength would violate the principle announced by Secretary Hughes, namely, that in general regard should be had to the existing naval strength of the powers concerned.

An Anglo-Japanese combination would absolutely alter the ratio of American to Japanese sea power. There is a confidence, however, that through the conference here will be thrown into the scales on the side of eliminating the Anglo-Japanese alliance, for it is reasoned there that the United States is rid of an immense financial burden, the business revival here cannot but help the economic situation of Canada.

Similarly the pressure for a recognition of Mr. Hughes' proposals is coming from all parts of the world where the hope is that an economic revival will follow the abandonment of useless expenditure for navies. Having made progress on the problem of naval armaments, however, the next step is to bring about something of the same spirit of accord on far eastern questions, admittedly a more difficult task. The air is filled with expectations of another formula by Mr. Hughes to be sprung on the conference laying down certain principles on the far eastern situation. Whether this will be laid on the table at an open session or an agreement sought in committee is yet to be determined, but the American aspiration is for these principles.

First—That all alliances be annulled.
Second—That spheres of influence in the far east shall be given up by all powers and the principle of the "open door" absolutely accepted with a pledge for its maintenance.
Third—That an international tribunal be constituted, which would settle questions as well as other vexed interpretations of existing treaties may be equally justified.

China and the Powers
Unless some such body is provided for, the conference here might last months without achieving an agreement, as the problem of China's relations to the treaty powers is a complicated one, the most that can be hoped for in a gathering such as this is a binding agreement upon principles which can be applied by the tribunal as each occasion arises.

The spirit of the moment is one of optimism; the reception given the Hughes proposals by the whole world has stimulated the American delegation to proceed to the open on other questions at issue. Open diplomacy has achieved a victory far beyond the expectations of Secretary Hughes himself, who is responsible for the policy. The last, all things considered, the conference is still in a preliminary stage; overconfidence is unwarranted. But the outlook is brighter as this conference opens than it was at Paris or The Hague or any other international conference in modern history.

ALLENRU SURELY CONQUERS RHEUMATISM

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.
People's Drug Co. and every druggist in this country are authorized to sell to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinges of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and where the patient was hopeless. Allenru relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it, the good world begins to sear the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.
It is marvelous how quickly it acts. Rheumatic relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.
Dr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the tortments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed People's Drug Co. to guarantee it in every instance. Time to Face the Facts

"So much has been said against the use of patent medicines that have had a strong prejudice against them. But after four years doctoring with six different doctors, without results, for acute indigestion, gastritis, constipation, appendicitis and other ailments, I was said to possess, I was encouraged to try Myr's Wonderful Remedy, seeing what it had done for a friend similarly afflicted. I also was entirely relieved of my troubles. I am sure this medicine will do all and more than is claimed for it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the alimentary tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose convinces or money returned. People's Drug Co., and druggists everywhere. Advertisement.

SOIL TESTING BIG JOB FOR GLASSCO

Week Set Aside for Test Work
Brings Many Farmers to Agent's Office.

FARM MEETINGS
Community meeting, Porter, Wednesday.
Farm Bureau meeting, Springfield, Thursday.
Valley township, in Orfordville, Thursday night.
Blasting demonstrations Thursday.
Soil test week.

Land owners in Rock county are this week bringing in soil samples to the office of County Agent R. T. Glasco to be tested for acidity. The entire county will be devoted to the work, declared to be of utmost importance to the farmers of the county. Tests are urged now because this is the last chance to obtain good samples, and limestone can be successfully applied during the winter months. The tests are important to determine how much of the pulverized lime to apply.

Samples should be obtained from the surface soils from the high and low places of the fields, and properly labeled.

"FIRST GENUINE RELIEF IN 40 YEARS," HE SAYS

Remarkable Case of Retired
Farmer Is Revealed In Frank
Statement Praising
Trutona.

"This medicine Trutona is 'positively the only thing that's given me any real relief in the last forty years,' was the remarkable and most convincing statement, made recently by E. K. Rice, retired Iowa farmer of 1013 Avalon avenue, Waterloo.
"I was completely run down when I began using Trutona, but today I simply feel like a different man," he continued. "All my chronic troubles from which I suffered for years, have been relieved by this medicine. Food doesn't sour in my stomach and cause the burning pains any more and I don't belch up my food like I once did. I sleep fine at night now; my kidneys are in better shape and I'll tell you, Trutona worked like magic on my words. They act regularly every day now."
Mr. Rice is but one of thousands of cases where Trutona has overcome stubborn health troubles or many years' duration after other medicines had failed. YOU'LL be surprised at the remarkable improvement possibly only a few doses of this famous tonic will produce. Don't be a Doubting Thomas at the expense of your health. Begin using Trutona TODAY.
Trutona is sold and highly recommended in Janesville at the PEG-PIE'S DRUG STORE. It is sold in Evansville at the Pioneer Drug Store; in Clinton at Bodger's; Edgerton, Atwell & Dallman's; Delavan, Murphy & O'Neal's and all good druggists in surrounding towns. Advertisement.

How to Increase Weight and Put on Solid Stay-There Flesh

What difference does it make to you how EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES puts good, solid, red-blooded, healthy flesh on your bones as long as it does it and makes you feel 100% better at the same time?
Evans' Triple Phosphates is something new and something that really does what is claimed for it. Start to take it today with each meal, and in four days you'll know that you are growing more robust and feel stronger and more active. Continue with your treatment faithfully for 10 days more and note with satisfaction that your nerves are growing more responsive; that your ambition does not lag but is cheerfully obedient to your wishes; that a touch of color is appearing in your cheeks and that your occupation ceases to become a task and is a pleasure. Notice that now before in your whole life, have you enjoyed living as you do today. Weigh yourself at the end of one month and let the scales tell the story.
All good druggists have agreed to supply this, run-down, under-developed persons with the understanding that if one month's treatment does not give most gratifying results your money is waiting for you. But don't take it even though it accomplishes wonders in nervous digestive troubles and as a general nerve tonic, unless you really want to put on flesh and gain weight. Advertisement.

Elks to Hold Their First Bouts in Rink on December 14

NEW OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN TO RESUME FISTIC GAME HERE

Resumption of boxing matches by the Janesville (Elks) athletic association will take place on Dec. 14, it was decided at a meeting following a banquet held by the board of directors at the Elks club Monday night. With the announcement by President E. R. McNite that the Coliseum rink on South River street has been leased from A. L. Mace, it was also stated that the state athletic commission unofficially has approved this new site.

New officers of the organization were elected as follows: E. R. McNite, president; Kendall Newman, vice-president; Harry V. Ross, secretary; Hiram Murdoch, treasurer, and Frank Sirovich, matchmaker. Tom Andrews of Milwaukee was designated as official advisor of the club.

With a seating capacity of 2,500, of which 1,100 will be rinkside seats and 1,400 bleachers—an increase of 1,200 over the arrangements of a year ago—it is planned to make Janesville the center of boxing for this section of the country. Camp Grant is close and the boxing public of that city are hungry. It was pointed out at the meeting, and efforts will be made to draw largely from that city. New concrete roads will aid in drawing the crowds.

Facilities for the comfort of the boxers will be installed in the rink, including showers. The new lease, drawn by Louis Avery, is said by the commission to be one of the best ever entered into for boxing in the state. The club donated $55 to the Salvation army.

Those present at the meeting were E. R. McNite, Henry Solomon, Hiram Murdoch, Al Rolstein, Harry V. Ross, Charles G. Boutin and Frank Sirovich.

Snappy Mass Meeting Before Saturday's Game

What promises to be the greatest demonstration for high school athletics will take place Saturday afternoon prior to the Janesville-Beloit game at the fair grounds here.

At a meeting of Rotary, Kiwanis, Lakota and other committees Monday night, it was decided to hold a snappy mass meeting of fathers and sons at the high school at 1:15 Saturday afternoon. Following a short program, the entire crowd will march in a long line to the fair grounds.

Final announcement of these arrangements will be made at all the father and son banquets to be held in the churches Friday night.

It is the plan now to have the merchants decorate their stores in the high school colors—sky blue and white.

The game is to start at 2:15 according to arrangements made Monday with Beloit.

RIFLES LINE UP

TEAMS FOR N. R. A.

Lineup of the teams of the Janesville rifle club to participate in the national rifle matches this winter and to retain the state championship was announced Tuesday. The first national match takes place Nov. 27.

Second practices of the indoor season will be held on the range at N. Main street Wednesday night. Members who would like a rearrangement of the teams must come at that time and shoot out of their position.

The teams are:

First team	Second team
Kull	Loebboro
Hamilton	Maxfield
Schwager	Goodsell
Church	Ryder
Bill	Winter
Smith	Parker
Corrado	Hart

UNION HIGH PLAYS WHITEWATER FRIDAY

[By Gazette Correspondent.]
Milton Junction.—The local Union high school will play White-water high at Whitewater next Friday in the last out-of-town game of the season. A return game with Whitewater, to be played here Thanksgiving day, will close the schedule.

KILL 42 POUND WOLF NEAR CITY

Weighing 42 pounds, and 5 feet 9 inches long, a timber wolf was shot near Burdick's farm, northeast of the city, Sunday morning by Roy Frommader and Louis Schelkopf, 713 Hickory street. Three loads from shotguns were necessary to kill the animal.

The wolf was crossing the railroad tracks when seen by the hunters. He fought hard, once trying to leap upon them, before they killed him. Its head will make a beautiful trophy.

The men were rabbit hunting.

GRID CAPTAIN DIES AFTER TEAM LOSES

Omaha.—Following a line buck in which his team was beaten, Floyd Watt, captain of the Villisca, Ia., high school team, dropped unconscious and died a few hours later. Injuries received last year and excitement caused death.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Richards May Head Prep Grid Teams in State

With feeling more general this year than several past that some better arrangement should be made in Wisconsin to arrive at a fair conclusion as to the state high school football championship, the name of Coach John Richards of the University of Wisconsin, Madison, has been put forth as chairman of a body to determine this issue. The plan is advanced that a series of sectional conferences be organized of the stronger teams in the state, and that from these schools an elimination set of games be played for the title.

Under this scheme the championship game would probably be played on Thanksgiving day of each year.

By a unanimous vote the Wisconsin Intercollegiate association has adopted a rule requiring any protest concerning the eligibility of a football or basketball player must be filed prior to 48 hours before the game is to begin. This is to prevent the recurrence of incidents such as the one at the recent Antigo-Merrill game, when Merrill protested the eligibility of an Antigo player just before the game.

French Billiard Champion Loses

Chicago.—Walker Cochran of San Francisco, Monday night, defeated Roger Conti, champion of France, 400 to 224, in the first match of the world's 132 ballline billiard championship tournament. The game went eleven innings.

Willie Hoppe, world's champion since 1908, plays Conti, loser of Monday night's match, Tuesday evening.

Edmond Foreman, the Belgian, is to be matched on Tuesday with Ora Morningsstar of San Diego and Jake Schaefer, Jr., regarded as Hoppe's most formidable opponent, meets the Chicago veteran, George Sutton.

BANKERS BASKET LEAGUE TO OPEN SEASON NEXT WEEK

First games in the recently organized bankers' basket ball league will be played at the high school next Monday night. The First National will play the Merchants and Savings, while the Rock county bank clashes with the combined Southern Wisconsin and Bower City banks.

It is planned to hold games every Monday night during the winter.

RICKARD RECEIVER CASE HELD OVER

New York.—After listening to the arguments of counsel for both sides, Justice Charles L. Guy in the Supreme court on Monday reserved decision on the application of Frank O. Armstrong, banker, for the appointment of a receiver for the affairs of Tex Rickard, boxing promoter.

PLANK BREAKS RECORD FOR 15 MILE WALK

New York.—A new American record for the fifteen mile walk was set by William Plant, veteran, who negotiated the distance in 2:03:37 2-5, winning the Metropolitan A. A. U. championship. The old mark of 2:06:15 1-5 was made by Plant in 1910.

STONEHAM RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF GIANTS

COLLEGE SECONDS TRIM UNION HIGH

[By Gazette Correspondent.]
Milton.—Coach Crandall's Milton college second team defeated Union high school in a practice game on the college field Monday afternoon, 13 to 0. Oakley, right end for the college scrubs, caught a forward pass early in the first period and ran half the length of the field for a touchdown.

Shortly afterward the collegians punted and Seager, left halfback, tackled the Union man who caught the punt, recovered the ball himself and dashed 10 yards across the goal line. Owing to the snow, and extreme cold, only 15-minute halves were played.

The college regulars had their first outdoor practice in several days. Capt. "Pete" Lanphere, who suffered a cracked rib in practice shortly after the Milwaukee Normal game, led the team at quarter-back in Monday's signal drill. He will probably be in shape to play against Northwestern Friday in the final game of the season.
